I. SPEECH--GENERAL RULES

Community Standard Form:
The Speech Community Standard Certification Form is due to the League office prior to the first subsection/section competition.

DEFINITIONS OF TERMS

REGION: The term "region" shall refer only to the administrative region and all administrative functions of regions. SECTION: The term "section" shall refer to all geographic groupings of schools for competition.

Speech section assignments may be viewed on the Home page of the MSHSL Web site - www.mshsl.org. Click on "Competitive Section Assignments" link and select "Speech."

A. Limitation on Participation
No student may participate in more than one of the thirteen categories in any MSHSL speech contest. A contestant may participate in a one act play and/or debate as well as in speech activities.

B. Stage Properties
No stage properties, including a lectern (or desktop holding a script), chair, or stool, shall be used in the delivery of any selection (except as provided for the optional use of visual aids in Informative Speaking and participants' sitting during Discussion rounds). Books and notes are not considered properties providing the script is not used as a prop. If a student uses a script, she/he must hold the script and refer to it.

C. Selection and Scripts
The selection (or cutting) submitted for a contestant at the first level of competition must be used at all levels for which the contestant qualifies.
A student may not use the same selection (this means the same cutting as used in a previous year) in more than one school year for any festival/invitational, conference, or MSHSL competition. This does not preclude using the same author or different parts of a novel, poem or play.

Coaches and contestants are responsible for ensuring that selections used meet all the qualifications of the event in which they are entered for example, Biblical prose belongs in Serious Prose; Psalms belong in Serious Poetry. In the cases of Serious Prose, Poetry, and Drama, the genre (literary classification) of a selection is determined by the classification identified by the publisher and/or the Library of Congress. Reconfiguration of a piece of literature (printing a prose work in lines to look like poetry, for example, or publishing a choral ode from a drama in verse as a stand-alone poem) does not change its original genre. In these cases, the genre of the original work shall determine the category into which it should be entered for competition. There are some situations in which a selection crosses genre lines and can be appropriately entered in more than one category. Similarly, there are selections that may be appropriately entered as serious or humorous depending on the cutting being used.

If there are questions regarding the appropriate event(s) into which a selection may be entered, a ruling should be obtained from the MSHSL Speech Rules Clinician well in advance of the first level of competition. A copy of that ruling or published/Library of Congress classification should be carried by the Coach to all competitions for verification.

All prepared selections not written by the contestant [as required for Duo Interpretation, Humorous Interpretation, and Serious Interpretation of Drama, Poetry, and Prose and for speeches examined in Great Speeches] must be publicly available ("published") in print or electronically (websites, ebooks, etc.). Texts available ONLY in audio/video recording (with no publicly available, verifiable transcription of the texts) may not be used because the texts cannot be verified. Scripts submitted to contest managers at all levels must include original, downloaded, or legally copied texts with clearly indicated sources for verification.

Updated copies of scripts for Informative Speaking, Creative Expression, Original Oratory, Great Speeches (including title(s) of speech(es), author, date, site of presentation and verification of required publication) must be submitted by coaches at contest. Submitted scripts must include citation of all quoted, paraphrased, or summarized materials. Direct quotations must be indicated by quotation marks. Failure to do so will result in disqualification.

Plagiarism is a serious offense and cases of verified plagiarism must result in automatic disqualification. At Subsection, Section, and State levels of competition, coaches are required at school check-in to submit copies of students' scripts (including introductions and source citations) for Serious Interpretation of Drama, Prose, Poetry, Humorous Interpretation of Literature and Duo Interpretation. Submitted scripts must include citation of original sources from which the selections were taken. Failure to do so will result in disqualification.

- Because scripts and original published copies of selections are used to verify whether or not a student has violated time limits, great care must be taken to punctuate the text precisely as it was originally published.
- Because contestants in interpretation events present the published and copyrighted work of other writers, it is not acceptable to add to, "update," or modify the original publication's language except in the case of "cutting" language for time, community standards/objectionable language, or "tag line" consideration.

D. Penalty for Rules Violation
The committee in charge of the tournament, along with members of the Rules Interpretation Committee, must penalize any student for violation of any rules. If the best credible evidence presented in a timely manner to the Rules Committee demonstrates that a student has committed a violation, the committee must disqualify the student unless the violation is one of the six exceptions listed below.

The following violations must result in the competitor's rank being adjusted to last in the round.

Exceptions to the disqualification penalty:
1. Violation of time limit.
2. Violation of Extemporaneous Reading teaser rule. For example, if a reader chooses to use a teaser before the introduction and does not repeat it after the introduction, the penalty is to adjust the reader's rank to last in the round.
3. Violation of Extemporaneous Reading cutting rule. For example, if a reader cuts a line or paragraph, reads more of the selection than is included in the drawn cutting, or rearranges the draw in any fashion, the penalty is to adjust the reader's rank to last in the round.

Updated August 31, 2016
4. Violation of Extemporaneous Speaking notes limit. For example, if a speaker uses more than one side of one 3" x 5" note card in the presentation of the speech, the penalty is to adjust the speaker’s rank to last in the round.
5. Violation of the following Storytelling rule: “The contestant must not add subplots make revisions to the story’s actual events that change the original plot or violate the story’s style, intent, and mood.” For example, if it is determined that a storyteller has added a sub-plot to the drawn story, the penalty is to adjust the storyteller’s rank to last in the round.
6. Violation of the script as a prompt rule. For example, a contestant who starts his/her speech without a manuscript and then proceeds to return to his/her desk to get the manuscript, the penalty is to adjust the contestant’s rank to last in the round.

Rank Adjustment Clarifications: A contestant cannot be dropped lower than the lowest possible rank in the round. The drop-in rank will be communicated to the tabulators by the Rules Committee. The tabulators will adjust the rankings for all contestants on each judge’s ballot for the round in which the violation occurred. If a contestant is found to have violated any rule and is tied with a contestant who has not violated a rule, the ruling on the tie must always fall against the violator. A rule violator cannot win a tie. If the violation occurs early in the tournament, it is not the Rule Interpretation Committee’s responsibility to warn a contestant who has violated a rule. The coach of the contestant must be notified of the rule violation before finalists are posted or, in the case of a violation during the final round, before contest results are announced. If there are more than one rank adjustment violation in the room, all violators must have their ranks adjusted. For example, if there are two violators in one room of six, then both violators will receive the rank of 6 and the lowest-ranked non-violator will receive a rank of 4.

In the event that a student is disqualified, the Tabulating Committee, upon being notified of the disqualification, will record (1) no ranking number in that round or subsequent rounds nor (2) total score of said contestant on the score sheet. "DQ" will be written in the appropriate box of competition on the score sheet. Any previous round scores earned by the contestant prior to the violation, shall remain on the score sheet. The Tabulating Committee will adjust the rankings for the other contestants on the specific judge ballot(s) as though the disqualified contestant had never competed. (See V. MSHSL STATE SPEECH TOURNAMENT, item H for example).

E. Order of Speaking
The order of speaking in each contest shall be determined by lot with the drawing to be done by the officials in charge of the contest or by a pre-established rotation schedule.

F. Prompting and Coaching
No contestant shall be prompted or coached in any manner during the preparation period for draw events or during the presentation itself. No contestant may consult his/her script during the presentation unless the script is being held and used throughout the entire presentation. If a student uses a script, she/he must hold the script at middle plane and refer to it. In addition, students in draw events may not speak with or receive messages from anyone except the Draw Manager, Room Manager, or Judge from the time the draw takes place until the conclusion of the presentation.

G. Timecards
Timecards must be used in all events except Discussion. In all draw events at MSHSL speech tournaments, minute-by-minute timecards, and ½-minute card will be used. In all other events (except Discussion), timecards will note the two-minute, one-minute, ½-minute, and stop.

H. Singing, Humming, Whistling
1. The use of vocal music (including whistling, humming, and singing) is one of many possible enhancement strategies for a speech. In all events, the vocal performance of music is permitted.
2. The use of music must either be referenced in the stage directions or the directional narrative of the published work (ex: “John hummed quietly to himself”) or be specifically published in the work.
3. In categories where selections being performed are written by the contestant, any music that is not original to the performer will be counted as direct quotation.

ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT MUSIC TO BE USED SHOULD BE ADDRESSED TO THE MSHSL SPEECH RULES CLINICIAN WELL IN ADVANCE OF THE FIRST LEVEL OF COMPETITION SO THAT CLARIFICATION AND VERIFICATION CAN BE PROVIDED!

I. Rules Committee: Subsection and Section
The Rules Committee shall be selected by the Contest Manager in advance of the contest. The committee must include at least three participating coaches who are knowledgeable about the contest rules. Alternate committee members must also be named. If any of the committee members cannot serve because of a conflict of interest, the alternates must serve on the Rules Committee.
At all levels of competition, every reasonable effort shall be made to correct errors that jeopardize a student’s advancement.

J. Protests
Protests relative to (a) violation of rules or time limits, (b) the validity of the selection for any speech contest, and (c) other potential violations of contest rules shall be the responsibility of the Subsection, Section or State Rules Committees. All questions regarding rules violations must be resolved by the Contest Rules Committee before results are announced. Protests raised after the announcement of results shall not affect the outcome of that contest but may affect eligibility for the next level of competition.

K. Procedure for Dealing with Disputes
All disputes or protests involving the Speech contest shall be directed to a Contest Rules Committee. The Rules Committee will review each allegation and make a recommendation to the Contest Manager, who must disqualify or penalize appropriately a contestant for a confirmed violation of the rules. Such procedures must be completed prior to the announcement of final results for that contest.

The Rules Committee may consult with the Timekeeper, Contest Manager, Judge(s), or other personnel about the alleged violation.

A decision must be made and communicated to the Coach prior to the announcements of results for that contest.

L. Audience at Tournament Events
All events are open to the public; therefore, contestants may observe other speakers in any event.

M. Introductions
When an introduction is required (i.e., in Creative Expression, Humorous Interpretation, Serious Interpretation, etc.), the student is permitted latitude in introductory technique (for example, a “teaser” at the beginning may or may not be employed at the student’s discretion) so long as other rules are not violated. For Extemporaneous Reading, see special rules regarding the use of a teaser.

N. Use of Gestures and Bodily Expression
Appropriate facial expression, movement, and gestures may be used by contestants.

O. Special Needs, Modifications, and Accommodations
Coaches of contestants whose special needs require accommodation or modification of the contest requirements or procedures should notify contest managers expeditiously to make timely and sensitive accommodations or modifications possible.

II. MSHSL SECTION SPEECH CONTEST ADMINISTRATION

A. Powers of Region Committees (i.e., Region Management team for all section tournaments)
1. The Region Committee shall determine the site and the date for each contest and designate the judges to be used.
2. The Region Committee shall determine the number of contestants for each Subsection to enter the Section contest.
3. The Region Committee shall certify the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place contestant in each event to represent that Region and advance to the State Contest.
4. Section rules will apply if the Region Committee has adopted a speech handbook otherwise MSHSL rules apply. [Timing rules may not be altered].
5. General rules and policies may not be altered at subsection/section speech tournaments.

B. Board Policies
1. It will be a violation of League policy for a member school or a representative of a member school to establish, distribute or accept any awards not provided by the MSHSL for Section or State Tournaments.
2. All-star casts/performers will not be named in any MSHSL Tournaments.

C. Reports of Contests
1. Immediately after a Section Contest, the Manager must complete and submit the results electronically to the League Office.
2. Immediately after a Section Contest, the Manager must send a certified report to the Region Secretary.

III. CONTEST EVENTS

A. The League shall hold contests in the following events:

1. Creative Expression
2. Discussion
3. Duo Interpretation
4. Extemporaneous Reading
5. Extemporaneous Speaking
6. Great Speeches
7. Humorous Interpretation
8. Informative Speaking
9. Original Oratory
10. Serious Drama Interpretation
11. Serious Poetry Interpretation
12. Serious Prose Interpretation
13. Storytelling

1. CREATIVE EXPRESSION

Creative Expression is the performance of material written by the contestant, so no more than 20% may be material from other sources. All materials quoted, paraphrased, or summarized from other sources must be documented orally and in the written text.

Because the presentation has been created by the student, judges should consider evidence of creative imagination in both writing and performance. The mood may be serious, humorous, or both. The objective is to encourage creativity through a variety of genre and performance styles. The total performance should reflect a unity of style, tone and theme.

The contestant may use pantomime, storytelling, interpretive reading, impersonation, or any combination of these performance styles. Properties, costumes, instrumental music, and stage makeup are NOT allowed.

An introductory statement, included within the ten (10) minute time limit, must precede the presentation. This introduction may, at the student’s discretion, include a “teaser.”

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

THE TIME LIMIT IS TEN (10) MINUTES, INCLUDING THE INTRODUCTION. IF THE SPEAKER HAS BEEN WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED, THE SPEAKER MAY ONLY FINISH THE SENTENCE ALREADY BEGUN.

2. DISCUSSION

Problem-solving Discussion is an effort on the part of a small group to reach a solution to a problem through informal interchange of facts, inferences, and judgments. This method of discussion seeks consensus rather than majority rule. The focus of this event should be the encouragement of cooperation and critical thinking to arrive at the collective goal of better understanding and problem solving.

The topic(s) for Discussion shall be approved each year by the Board of Directors.

The Discussion group shall be composed of not more than eight contestants. Additional sections may be scheduled if the number of contestants exceeds eight. The Discussion activity shall be conducted according to the following procedure:

• A study outline and bibliography of the main topic(s) and related sub-topics will be posted on the MSHSL website.
• The discussion will be task-oriented where participants act as members of a group whose goal is most frequently an agreed-upon statement of policy, rules, lists, etc., which may also include rationale.
Tasks for MSHSL-sponsored contests will be furnished by the League (as are cuttings and questions for other draw categories) and will not mandate any specific agenda. Invitational festival managers should create tasks for their festivals. Specific tasks will be drawn prior to each round of discussion.

The discussants should control their own process of inquiry. Emerging leadership from within the group should develop. Management of time for that round should remain the responsibility of the discussants themselves. Judges are not to participate. At no time should a Judge become a part of the discussion. Judges should not suggest an agenda, give an opinion, or give oral critiques.

The basis for judging Discussion should place emphasis on the task and social dimensions of group interaction. These questions may serve as a guide:
1. Did the discussant’s contributions add to the group effort?
2. Did the discussant possess sufficient information, and was the information of high quality?
3. Did the discussant’s contributions reflect an understanding of major issues?
4. Did the discussant’s behavior reflect a respect for the dignity and worth of other participants?
5. Did the discussant exhibit active listening skills?

Judges must be given and must use the criteria listed on the "Individual Critique Sheet for Discussion."

Judge(s) may write a group critique sheet to be duplicated by the Contest Manager for each member of the Discussion group.

THE DISCUSSION PERIOD SHALL NOT EXCEED ONE HOUR (60 MINUTES).

3. DUO INTERPRETATION
Duo interpretation features two students interpreting together one or more selections from a single published source or a single anthology of prose, poetry, and/or dramatic literature, serious and/or humorous, with literary merit and appropriate to the readers. The students’ script may be limited to a single author or genre but may include material from more than one genre and/or author so long as the material comes from that single published source. Each student may portray one or more characters. Costumes, props, make-up, special lights, scenery, stools, or chairs, music stands, or lecterns may not be used.

An introduction must be presented at the beginning of the interpretation and this introduction, along with any transitional remarks necessary for the selection, may be delivered by either or both of the participants. A “teaser” may be used, provided that it comes from one of the selections being used and is duly noted.

Duo Interpretation is an oral interpretation event and shall be judged as such. There shall be no body contact between speakers. Facial expressions, movement, and gestures may be used as appropriate to the piece. Eye contact is permitted with audience members during narration. Focal points may be employed during dialogue. Interpreters may refer to each other and make eye contact with each other during the introduction and/or transitions.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section and State levels.

Should one original member of a Duo be unable to compete, a substitute may be named to perform in his/her place. The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

THE MAXIMUM TIME LIMIT IS TEN (10) MINUTES, INCLUDING A REQUIRED INTRODUCTION AND NECESSARY TRANSITIONS. IF THE SPEAKER HAS BEEN WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED, THE SPEAKER MAY ONLY FINISH THE SENTENCE ALREADY BEGUN.

4. EXTEMPORANEOUS READING
Participation in Extemporaneous Reading teaches a student to introduce and read excerpts from prose or poetry for the purpose of appreciation or enjoyment. The student will declare, prior to each draw, his/her choice of genre. Specific sources for reading will be announced in the fall of each year. The League Office will identify specific poems and stories for contests. NO CUTTINGS WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE BEFORE THE ACTUAL CONTESTS.

The order of speaking shall be determined by lot. Thirty (30) minutes before the contest begins, the first reader shall draw three cuttings. The reader shall immediately choose one of them, and return the other two which will then be placed with the other cuttings remaining to be drawn. The cuttings chosen shall be recorded by the event manager. Each of the succeeding readers shall, at intervals of eight (8) minutes, in turn, follow the same procedure. The student may not perform a cutting that she/he has performed in any round of that competition. In the event that the student draws a previously performed cutting, she/he shall draw a substitute cutting.

After the contestant has drawn a cutting, the student shall not confer or have any communication with a coach or others until the reading has been delivered. Each reader shall present the cutting draw slip to the Room Manager or Judge(s) in the round.

While the inadvertent skipping or substitution of a single word or phrase in an Extemporaneous reading may occasionally and understandably occur, students must be careful that entire sentences or more are not skipped during the presentation. Contestants must not read more of the selection than is included in the drawn cutting.

For poetry, students must read selections in the order listed on the draw slip. For prose, students must start at the beginning of the prescribed cutting and read as much of the complete cutting as time permits. Students are allowed to stop reading at any point within the last minute. If the time has expired, the student shall complete only the sentence already begun. Allowable cutting would include the elimination of "he said," and "she said," once a character has been established or the omission of language objectionable to the contestant.

The student should be judged on the ability to introduce the excerpt with a few appropriate extemporaneous remarks, and to read the selection with effective vocal and bodily expression.

The student may use a “teaser” as a part of the introduction. However, the “teaser” must be a part of the actual drawn section of the story or poem, and the “teaser” passage may not be eliminated within the reading subsequently presented.

THE ENTIRE DELIVERY TIME, INCLUDING THE REQUIRED INTRODUCTION, SHALL NOT EXCEED SEVEN (7) MINUTES.

5. EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING

The Extemporaneous Speech should be an original synthesis of current fact and opinion on a topic drawn by the contestant. Speakers may choose from either U.S. or International topics. The Judge(s) should consider the quality of information presented by the speaker, together with the speaker's use of that information to support the thesis.

The subjects for this event shall be taken from the following magazines and newspapers, with an attempt to balance social, economic, and political issues: Time, St. Paul Pioneer Press, U.S. Weekly News, Minneapolis Star Tribune, Newsweek.

The MSHSL will publish each fall subject areas chosen from these publications.

The MSHSL will provide questions in both U.S. and International areas for each level of MSHSL competition. Questions shall require persuasive rather than informative speeches.

The goal of this activity is the encouragement of extensive reading, understanding of many subjects, and the development of reasoned, supportable positions on issues.

The order of speaking shall be determined by lot. Thirty (30) minutes before the contest begins, the first speaker shall draw three questions. The speaker shall immediately choose one of them and return the other two, which shall then be put with the other questions remaining to be drawn. The questions chosen shall be recorded by the Event Manager. Each of the succeeding speakers shall, at intervals of eight (8) minutes, in turn, follow the same procedure. In the event that the student draws a previously performed question, she/he may draw a substitute question.

The student may not perform a cutting that she/he has performed in any round of that competition. In the event that the student draws a previously performed cutting, she/he shall draw a substitute cutting.

During the thirty (30) minutes of preparation of the speech, students may consult published books, magazines, newspapers and journals and Internet articles downloaded from established news sources, provided:
A. They are originals or photocopies of whole pages.
B. Provided those originals or photocopies are uncut.
C. There is no written material on that original or copy other than highlighting and citation information (such as publication title and date).
D. Topical index may be present. No other material shall be allowed in the prep room other than stated above. Extemporaneous speeches, handbooks, briefs, and outlines shall be barred from the prep room. Outlines and notes created in the prep room during preparation time at the tournament are allowed. Students are not permitted the use of computers to do research during the preparation period but may use computers to retrieve already-stored information. After the contestant has drawn a question, the student shall not confer or have any communication in any way with a coach or others until the speech has been delivered. A contestant may use one side of one 3” x 5” note card during the delivery of the speech.

Each speaker shall present the question drawn to the Room Manager or Judge(s) of the round. Upon completion of the speech, each speaker shall immediately present any notes used to the Room Manager or Judge(s) who will present the same to the Contest Manager.

The Judge(s) shall not be permitted to ask questions of the speakers.

Unless otherwise determined by the Region Committee, the questions are to be furnished by the League Office for:

a. Subsection Contests: The questions, U.S. and International, will be furnished to the Contest Manager prior to said contest.
b. Section Contests: The questions, U.S. and International will be furnished to the Contest Manager prior to said contest.

The contestant in Extemporaneous Speaking is responsible for:

a. Strict adherence to the question drawn.
b. Well-chosen information relative to the question drawn.
c. Organization of the material.
d. Effective delivery.

THE SPEECH SHALL BE EXTEMPORANEOUS AND SHALL NOT EXCEED SEVEN (7) MINUTES IN LENGTH.

SPEAKERS WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED MAY CONCLUDE WITH ONE FINAL SENTENCE.

6. GREAT SPEECHES

Great Speeches is an event in which the contestant speaks about either

• a single speech

OR

• an anthology of speeches (not to exceed three) related by common author, theme, or another element.

Each speech (public address) must have been delivered by the speaker before the speaker's intended original audience. For example, "Sermon on the Mount" is Biblical Prose; "Antony's Funeral Oration" is Shakespearean Drama. The contestant's analysis should convey the delight, edification, and challenge of contemporary or historical public address.

Information about each author/speaker, subject, original audience, and occasion must be included in an introduction. During the presentation, the contestant must also justify the selection for presentation to the contestant's immediate audience. The justification need not be an explicit statement but may include such subjects as the historical or potential importance, language style, rhetorical technique and audience appeal. Comments about textual accuracy and ghostwriting style may be included where appropriate. All materials quoted, paraphrased, or summarized from other sources must be documented both orally and in the written text.

A minimum of 25% of the presentation must be the contestant's own material. How portions of the original speech text are incorporated into the participant's presentation shall be at the discretion of the participant. Statements, analysis and exposition may be either interspersed throughout the presentation or contained in only one or a few portions of the presentation.

For purposes of documentation, the student is required to provide a citation indicating the source of the selected speech within the written and oral text of the student’s speech. Recorded speeches may be used only if their texts have also been published in print or online.
Judging should be on the general effectiveness of the student's interaction with the audience to share the greatness of the speech. The Judge's primary attention should be on the participant's judgment in choosing and editing the material, sensitivity to author's ideas and purpose, and, especially, the speaker's analysis of historical potential, and/or rhetorical importance of the speech. The student may, but is not required to, use a rhetorical model. Secondly, delivery emphasis should be on communication. Since this is not a prose interpretation event, posturing, impersonation, and imitation are to be avoided. Caution is given to judges that the word 'great' does not denote changing the world, but rather is worthy of our consideration or study.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

THE MAXIMUM TIME OF THE PRESENTATION SHALL NOT EXCEED TEN (10) MINUTES. IF THE SPEAKER HAS BEEN WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED, THE SPEAKER MAY ONLY FINISH THE SENTENCE ALREADY BEGUN.

7. HUMOROUS INTERPRETATION
Humorous Interpretation uses any published selection, either prose, poetry, or dramatic literature, with literary merit and appropriate to the reader. The cutting should amuse, give enjoyment, or create laughter.

The student should be judged on ability to get and give meaning through the use of vocal and bodily expression. Poise, vocal and physical delivery, and appropriateness of the selection to the interpreter should be considered.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

THE MAXIMUM TIME OF PRESENTATION, INCLUDING THE REQUIRED INTRODUCTION, IS TEN (10) MINUTES. IF THE SPEAKER HAS BEEN WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED, THE SPEAKER MAY ONLY FINISH THE SENTENCE ALREADY BEGUN.

8. INFORMATIVE SPEAKING
Informative Speaking is an event in which the student presents an original informative composition of which no more than 10% shall be direct quotation. Quality of thought, research, and composition, as well as delivery, should be considered by the Judges. All materials quoted, paraphrased, or summarized from other sources (including visuals) must be documented in the submitted script (within the text or in a Works Cited listing or both) and orally and/or visually during the presentation.

The purpose of Informative Speaking is to present information that the audience may or may not possess and that the student believes important for the audience.

The use of visual aids is optional. Visual aids may be two-dimensional and/or three-dimensional but may not violate law (weapons, drugs, for example). The use of animals or any additional people as visual aids is not allowed during the speech. Maximum set-up time is two (2) minutes. When set-up is completed or all of the set-up time has been used, timing the speaking begins. Expedient take-down is expected. The host school is responsible for communicating any limitations to visual aids dictated by their school policies. The host school is not responsible for providing any facilities, equipment, or assistance in a contestant's use of visual aid.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

On-the-spot audience surveys adapted to the speech as given, audience handouts, and active audience involvement are not permitted. The rule does not allow for any type of audience participation. The speech is to be a self-contained presentation—ten (10) minutes in length—presented and controlled by the student.

The judging criteria will be the following:
1. Appropriate choice of subject and information for the audience.
2. Clear organization.
3. Direct and communicative delivery manner.
4. Predominantly serious informative purpose (which may include the use of humor).
5. Avoidance of predominantly persuasive subjects and techniques (Every Informative Speech contains some elements of persuasion).

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

9. ORIGINAL ORATORY
Original Oratory is an event in which the contestant presents his/her own PERSUASIVE composition of which no more than 10% shall be direct quotation. Because these orations have been written by the contestants, judges should consider the high quality of thought and composition, as well as, communicative delivery. All materials quoted, paraphrased, or summarized from other sources must be documented orally and in the written text.

The orator should not be expected to solve any of the great problems of the day but must offer some insight and guidance. The contestant should be expected to speak intelligently and with a degree of originality about the message chosen. The rule does not allow for any type of audience participation.

The composition should be especially adapted to oral presentation, and the orator should employ a variety of persuasive skills and strive for eloquence in style. No particular manner of delivery is required, nor is any particular manner of content organization.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

10. SERIOUS DRAMA INTERPRETATION
Serious Drama Interpretation uses any published selection of dramatic literature (plays, radio plays, television plays, or screenplays) with literary merit and appropriate to the reader. The term "dramatic" here refers to the genre of the literature and does not include prose or poetry that is serious. The mood of the cutting must be essentially serious.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The student should be judged on ability to get and give meaning through the use of vocal and bodily expression. Poise, vocal and physical delivery, and appropriateness of the selection to the interpreter should be considered. The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

11. SERIOUS POETRY INTERPRETATION
Serious Poetry Interpretation uses any published poetry selection, including novels in verse, with literary merit and appropriate to the reader. Serious dramatic literature written in verse, such as a tragedy by Shakespeare, is considered "Serious Drama" rather than "Serious Poetry." The mood of the cutting must be essentially serious. Selections for poetry may include one poem or several clearly identified poems. The titles and authors of each poem must be stated either in the introduction or throughout the performance.

The student should be judged on ability to get and give meaning through the use of vocal and bodily expression. Poise, vocal and physical delivery, and appropriateness of the selection to the interpreter should be considered.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

THE MAXIMUM TIME OF PRESENTATION, INCLUDING THE REQUIRED INTRODUCTION, IS TEN (10) MINUTES. IF THE SPEAKER HAS BEEN WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED, THE SPEAKER MAY ONLY FINISH THE SENTENCE ALREADY BEGUN.

12. SERIOUS PROSE INTERPRETATION

Serious Prose Interpretation uses any published selection of prose, fiction or non-fiction. "Novels in verse" are typically considered Serious Poetry. Any selection, with literary merit and appropriate to the reader, that is not poetry, a play or part of a play, or a delivered speech is considered prose. The mood of the cutting must be essentially serious.

The student should be judged on ability to get and give meaning through the use of vocal and bodily expression. Poise, vocal and physical delivery, and appropriateness of the selection to the interpreter should be considered.

A copy of the script must be filed with the Contest Manager before each contest. Updated copies of the script must be submitted at Subsection, Section, and State levels.

The use of a script is optional, provided it is not used as a prop.

THE MAXIMUM TIME OF PRESENTATION, INCLUDING THE REQUIRED INTRODUCTION, IS TEN (10) MINUTES. IF THE SPEAKER HAS BEEN WARNED THAT TIME HAS EXPIRED, THE SPEAKER MAY ONLY FINISH THE SENTENCE ALREADY BEGUN.

13. STORYTELLING

Participation in storytelling should train students to recreate a familiar story extemporaneously. A selected list of fifteen (15) stories will be announced in the fall of each year. The order of presentation shall be determined by lot before the contest begins. Thirty (30) minutes before the contest begins, the first storyteller shall draw three titles. The storyteller shall immediately choose one of them and return the other two, which will then be placed with the other stories remaining to be drawn. The title chosen shall be recorded by the Event Manager. Each of the succeeding performers shall, at intervals of eight (8) minutes, in turn, follow the same procedure.

In all rounds, including finals, in ALL levels of competition, a student may NOT repeat a story previously performed in preliminary round at that level of competition. In the event that the student draws a previously performed story, she/he shall draw a substitute story.

After the contestant has drawn a title, the student shall not confer, or communicate in any way with a coach or others until the presentation has been delivered. Each storyteller shall present the storytelling draw slip to the Room Manager or Judge(s) in the round. No books, notes or properties shall be taken to the platform. Introductory comments (which may be preceded by a teaser) must precede the telling of the story. The contestant must not add subplots or make revisions to the story's actual events that change the original plot or violate the story's style, intent, and mood. Cutting of a lengthy story is allowable to meet time constraints. The use of a concluding statement that ties back to the introduction is allowed but not required.

Because this is not a recitation, the contestant will be judged on the ability to recreate the story in his/her own words, with emphasis on a direct conversational style and spontaneous bodily action. The contestant must maintain the story's mood and format and must deliver the story extemporaneously.

TIME LIMIT, INCLUDING REQUIRED INTRODUCTORY COMMENTS, IS SEVEN (7) MINUTES. If the storyteller is warned that time has expired, the storyteller may conclude with one final statement.

As requested by the Speech Advisory Committee, there will be no Readers in Storytelling. The Tournament Committee asks that Judges have read the stories if they have indicated a willingness to judge this event at any level of competition.

IV. AWARDS

Section:

Medals: To 1st - 6th place in each event

State:

Certificate of Participation: To each student participant

Medals: To 1st - 8th place in each event

V. MSHSL STATE SPEECH TOURNAMENT

A. Substitution
   If a qualified contestant is unable to participate in the State Tournament, no alternate contestants will be placed into the competition.

B. Coaching Aides
   The following materials will be posted to the League website.
   • Discussion Outline
   • Listing of Selected Stories and Poems for Storytelling and Extemporaneous Reading
   • Extemporaneous Speaking Topics
   • Rules updates and interpretations of general interest.

C. Information Relating to Contestants
   No information shall be given to the Judge(s) to identify the contestant with the school she/he represents. The name of the student, title and author of the selection will be included in the program. Class “A” schools will vote for Class “A” tournament judges and class “AA” schools will vote for Class “AA” judges.

D. Information Relating to State Speech Tournament Judges
   1. As with other levels of MSHSL competition, only judges registered on the MSHSL website shall be eligible to judge at the State Speech Tournament.
   2. Judges for the State Speech Tournament must be registered on the League's website by October 15 of the school year in which they wish to be considered.
   3. Judges must indicate their willingness to judge at the State Speech Tournament no later than November 1 of the school year in which they wish to be considered.
   4. Judges who meet items 1-3 will be listed on a survey to all registered speech schools.
   5. Registered speech schools will have one (1) vote per school to recommend up to forty (40) judges the school believes should be considered to judge at the State Speech Tournament.
   6. MSHSL staff and Rules Clinician will select the State Speech Tournament judges from among those who have indicated an interest in judging at the State Speech Tournament and have been recommended by registered speech schools.

   Judges are expected to review contest event rules and judges for Storytelling and Extemporaneous Reading are expected to read the selections prior to the Tournament.

E. Timekeeper/Room Manager
   In the draw events of Extemporaneous Speaking, Extemporaneous Reading, and Storytelling, the timekeeper shall indicate by a show of a card each minute interval, including a card to indicate the final 30 seconds (1/2 minute) of the time allowed. In all other events, the timekeeper shall indicate the final two (2) minutes, one (1) minute and half-minute of the allowed time. The 30-second (1/2 minute) card will serve as a warning and should be clearly displayed by the timekeeper.

   In all events, the timekeeper will stand and remain standing when the time has expired. The contestant shall only complete the sentence already begun. In Storytelling and Extemporaneous Speaking, when a speaker is warned that time has expired, she/he may make a concluding statement (one sentence).

F. State Speech Speaking Assignments

Updated August 31, 2016
The Speakers in each event shall be arranged so that there will be a balance of first, second, and third place qualifiers in each competitive group. Students will compete in four (4) sections of six (6) students each for the preliminary rounds.

A different section pairing rotation will be used for each event in the contest. In preliminary rounds, contestants from the same section will not be in the same competitive group. The speaking order shall be rotated for the second and third appearances so that no student would precede or follow the same student in the second or third rounds.

The speaking order for the final round shall be determined by computer-generated random placement.

G. Critiquing at the State Tournament
Judges will provide written critiques for the three preliminary rounds, but not for the final round of competition.

H. Tabulators
Tabulators will be hired to record and tabulate the results of the tournament each day.

I. Rules Committee
A three-person Rules Interpretation Committee will serve at the State Speech Tournament to deal with questions regarding rules and regulations. Members will include the MSHSL Speech Rules Clinician or his/her designee and two other knowledgeable individuals appointed by the MSHSL. The Rules Committee shall be informed of their duties and be present on the designated day. If one or more cannot serve, the League shall appoint replacements. When a dispute is brought to the jury of appeals, the student's coach shall be invited to listen to the dispute and provide a brief statement before a ruling is made. In the case of a declared violation or a decision in a disputed situation that results in disqualification or rank adjustment, the affected contestant's coach will be notified.

In the event that a student is disqualified, the tabulating committee, upon being notified of the disqualification, will record (1) no ranking number in that round or subsequent rounds, (2) total score of said contestant on the score sheet. "DQ" will be written in the appropriate box of competition on the score sheet. Any previous round scores earned by the contestant shall remain on the score sheet. The tabulating committee will adjust the rankings for the other contestants on the specific judge ballot(s) as though the disqualified contestant had never competed.

Example:
If Contestant C has been disqualified, the actual recorded scores on the score sheet would be those in the right column.

VI. SPEECH RANKING AND SCORING PROCEDURE AT THE STATE TOURNAMENT

TABULATION PROCEDURES

The following codes may be used on event results sheet. These codes reflect tie-breaking procedures employed to select finalists or determine final placement.

Terms Defined:

Updated August 31, 2016
2. Judges' preference - used to break ties in final round where actual ranks indicate preference of two (2) judges for one contestant over another in two (2) person "Rank Total" tie. Judges' preference is used to break tie between two (2) persons but may follow the procedure of "solving" three (3) or more person tie when down to two (2) contestants.
3. Reciprocal Conversion Factor - is used to convert rank to a percentage when judge's preference still renders a tie or more contestants are tied. (1st = 1.00; 2nd = .50; 3rd = .33; etc.)

RECORDING AND VERIFYING RESULTS

1. Following each preliminary round, actual ranks 1-6 will be recorded and double-checked by the tabulation team.
2. If any preliminary round competition room contains fewer than 6 competitors, the lowest score any competitor in that event can receive that round is the lowest ranking in the smallest room. For example, if 3 rooms have 6 competitors and one have 5, no competitor will receive a score lower than 5 for that round.
3. The team will deliver the judges' ballots and the tabulation sheet for each event to the Tournament Manager.
4. The individual student critiques will be sorted into school envelopes using the school code number already on the critiques.

DETERMINING FINALISTS

1. The single Judge in each preliminary round shall rank all contestants she/he hears in each section.
2. To determine which contestants shall participate in the final round, the Tabulating Committee shall add the three (3) actual ranks of each contestant in the event. The eight students with the lowest total score (sum of ranks) will advance to the final round.
3. Results from head to head matchups will be used to break ties. If a tie still occurs, or head to head cannot be used, the tabulators will add the actual ranks of the fifteen speakers met in Rounds 1, 2 and 3 by each speaker in the tie. The speaker in the tie whose opponents have the lowest total of ranks will advance. If a tie still occurs, reciprocal fractions of actual ranks will be used.
4. If a tie still occurs, the final round may be scheduled with fewer but not more than eight students.

DETERMINING FINAL RANKING

1. The three (3) Judges in the final round (without conferring) will use the same criteria as was used in the preliminary rounds in ranking contestants (ranking all 1st through 8th—no two alike).
2. After the final round, the tabulating committee will determine the state champion, runner-up, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth place winners in each of the thirteen divisions by totaling all three final round rankings for each contestant. The lowest total shall be 1st place, etc.
3. In the event of a two-way tie for a given place, the contestant preferred by two of the three judges in the final round shall be awarded that place. This tiebreaker shall be of first priority and shall always be used to break two-way ties.
4. Reciprocal fractions of final round actual ranks shall be used in three or more-way ties as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reciprocal Conversion Values:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 equals 1.00; 2 equals .50; 3 equals .33; 4 equals .25; 5 equals .20; 6 equals .16; 7 equals .14; 8 equals .12. Rank the contestants according to the highest reciprocal fraction total. If any two contestants are still tied, use judges’ preference of final round ranks to break the two-way tie that remains.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

5. If a three-way tie remains after using reciprocal fractions, the total actual ranks of the three preliminary round judges will become the next tiebreaker.
6. If a three-way tie still remains, preliminary round head to head followed by preliminary round opponents ranks become the next tiebreakers.
7. If a three-way tie still remains, the tabulators will use the reciprocal fractions of actual ranks of all three preliminary rounds.

DETERMINING FINAL TEAM RANKING

1. Team Awards will be presented to the top three (3) schools at each of the MSHSL State Tournaments
2. Points would be awarded to teams based on students’ placement in finals using the following system: 8th place=1 point, 7th place=2 points, 6th place=3 points, 5th place=4 points, 4th place=5 points, 3rd place=6 points, 2nd place=7 points, 1st place = 8 points
3. Teams will be sorted in order by total points to determine 1st, 2nd and 3rd. If a tie occurs in the top three places, duplicate trophies will be provided, ties will not be broken.
